1. According to Cubans recently returned to Cuba from Moscow, "Maxim Litvinoff" is a possible candidate for the post of chief delegate to the United Nations, vacant since Jacob Malik's departure. Litvinoff is expected to carry on the new "friendly" policy line towards the West.
2. [REDACTED] the nomination of Litvinoff depends upon the outcome of the Korean peace talks. If these talks end "successfully", the nomination of Litvinoff would appear to be certain.
